ABOUT ME

I'm a new frontend developer on a journey to build a career in the web world. I'm passionate about applying my recently acquired web development skills to real-world projects and committed to keeping learning. I'm proactive and a quick learner, able to adapt to new technologies. Possessing strong organizational and time management skills, I'm used to prioritizing tasks to meet tight project deadlines. I enjoy teamwork but I am also capable of working independently.
